

Press Release — 20th May 2019

David Mann takes Business Development role with Swintt

Swintt, the recently launched, B2B casino games provider has announced the appointment of David Mann as Business Development Director, as they establish their base in Malta.

David Mann joined Swintt in early-May 2019, with key responsibilities including developing partnerships across European customers, growing the commercial team and identifying opportunities in new markets.

Swintt are the exciting new star in the online gaming industry, with a focus on delivering quality games built on local knowledge and data and partnering with exclusive suppliers to deliver a unique offering to local markets. Establishing their new HQ in Ta Xbiex, industry veteran David Flynn is spearheading the business as CEO.

David Mann has over 10 years of iGaming experience in the industry and a unique view across both B2C and B2B parts of the business, including roles at William Hill, Betway, Spigo, and most recently, as Sales Manager at Wazdan.

Welcoming the new appointment, CEO David Flynn said:

“When launching a new business. It’s crucial to have the right people on board. David comes with immense experience from across the industry which makes him an ideal candidate to help grow our business with our customers. At Swintt we strive to understand the needs of our customers in their target markets. David’s knowledge of operating as well as supplying, really helps in this process. I’m delighted to have David on board.”

About his new move, Business Development Director David Mann said: “I am extremely excited to be part of a project which emphasises building strong relationships with the best businesses in the market. Years of experience and passion for what we do is the basepoint of this journey as we offer quality games supported by powerful tools to the very best operators in the industry.”

If you would like to know more about Swintt, both David Mann and David Flynn will be attending this year's G2E-Asia event in Macau, between the 21st and 24th of May.

Ends

For further information, please contact;

David Flynn
CEO, Swintt Malta Limited
Mobile: +35699236692
Email: david.flynn@swintt.com

About Swintt

Swintt is the innovative new star in the I-gaming market with the goal to become a leading digital gaming provider. Headquartered in Malta, with a staff of more than 70 employees and partnerships globally, Swintt delivers quality games built on local knowledge and data. We strive to build lasting relationships and increase player engagement through innovations in game design and retention tools. Our philosophy is to create sustainable gaming products delivered for a new generation of player.

For more information about Swintt visit: www.swintt.com

